Urges U.S. Aid Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governor Herbert Lehman of New York called at the White House today and, he reported this afternoon, urged that "our government furnish the Allies promptly with all the planes, equipment and supplies which President Roosevelt felt could be spared without jeopardy to the national defence."

Mr. Lehman said Mr. Roosevelt listened to his plea but made no comment.

Passports to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States State Department, endeavoring to erect a barrier against possible inflow of "fifth column" aliens, this afternoon issued stringent regulations requiring passports from many new classes of foreigners, including Canadians.

Duncan Man Killed

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP)—Lieut. Angus Frederic Galloway, 26-year-old son of F. W. Galloway, retired Imperial Indian police officer, and Mrs. Galloway of Duncan, was killed in action at La Panne, near Dunkerque, May 31, according to word received by his parents here.

Lieut. Galloway, a graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston, was with the Royal Engineers.

Works Ordered

OTTAWA (CP)—Orders have been placed for five construction projects involving an expenditure of about $426,700. It was announced by the Department of Munitions and Supply this afternoon.

The works are at Fort William, Ont.; Amherst, N.S.; Valcartier, Que.; Longueuil, Que., and Halifax.

Farms 'Arsenals'

WINNIPEG (CP)—Many farms operated by enemy aliens in western Canada "are regular arsenals." A. W. Hanks, of suburban St. James today told the annual convention here of the Manitoba division Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

Hanks, secretary-treasurer of the Manitoba division, urged that the Dominion government order the disarmament of all aliens in Canada. All weapons and explosives in private hands should be registered.

Vernon Flier Safe

VERNON (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts stated this afternoon they had received word from England that their son, Flying Officer Arthur Roberts, reported missing after air operations in France, is safe. No other details were given.

Two other Vernon men, Flight Lieutenant R. F. Weatherill and Pilot Officer Lorne Chambers, were reported missing last week. No further word of their fate has been received.

FASCISTS ON CALL

ROME (AP)—Orders were quietly circulated tonight to men of all branches of the Fascist Party in Rome to be ready to don uniforms at any time for a suddenly called mass meeting at which Mussolini would announce Italy was at war.

Presumably similar meetings would be held throughout Italy as at the time of the announcement of the Ethiopian War. The announcement would be made by Premier Mussolini from his balcony looking into the Piazza Venezia, where all his most important statements have been made.

The Fascists were told the meeting probably would be held on a few minutes' notice, but no time was indicated.

No Meatless Days

LONDON (CP)—A suggestion that Britain have meatless and liquorless days was rejected in the House of Commons today by Robert Boothby, Parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Food.

Chungking Area Bombed

CHUNGKING, China (AP)—Large squadrons of Japanese planes bombed points near Chungking today. Fifty-four planes attacked the Chungking-Chengtu highway, 10 miles west of the provisional Chinese capital. Chungking itself had a three-hour alarm.

Dunkerque, the Last Chapter in a Military Masterpiece

The once-lovely port of Dunkerque is smothered in billows of smoke following German bombing as Britain and France rescued their gallant troops. Rescue ships are shown in foreground.

Headed for England and rest after their weeks of continuous fighting in Flanders, Allied troops are shown wading into the English Channel from the French shore near Dunkerque, to get aboard the rescue vessel partly shown in the foreground.

This English nurse went across the Channel for relief work, and was herself wounded when Nazi forces bombed the British hospital ship Hope just off Dunkerque.

SEES NO EARLY NAZI INVASION

LONDON (CP)—Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, told American newspapermen today that if the United States should come to the aid of the Allies even a year from now it would not be too late.

Germany, he said, apparently has found it imperative to withhold attacks on Britain until after the offensive against France. The minister expressed the opinion that any assaults on England would fail.

"I do not believe in the invasion," he said. "I think we are able to handle parachute troops in great numbers and if an attack were made on land, over the coast, Germany likely would be disappointed."

Mr. Duff Cooper said that the "immediate needs" from the United States are anti-tank guns, submachine guns and planes and more planes.

Secret House Sitting

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill today announced the House of Commons will hold a secret sitting next Tuesday for debate on home defence.

G. M. Garro-Jones, Labor, asked if ministers would attend the secret debate.

"I hope that some of them, at any rate, will be attending to the war," replied Mr. Churchill amid cheers.

The House of Lords arranged for a secret sitting next Wednesday to debate the same subject.

Swiss Prepared

BERNE (CP-Havas)—General Henri Guisan, commander of the Swiss army, declared today the Swiss will not be taken by surprise by new methods of warfare if the country is invaded. "Counter-measures have been taken," he stated, "most of our positions are in mountainous or covered terrain. They are thus sheltered from the view of aviators and accessible to tanks only with difficulty."

British Told to Grow More Foodstuffs

LONDON (CP)—Robert Hudson, Minister of Agriculture, told British farmers today "we are faced with a peril much greater than we were faced with at any period in the last war," and asked them to produce a maximum from the land in the coming year.

In an address before the annual conference of the Council of Agriculture, the minister warned that "we shall have to do things no one contemplated in the last war."

One delegate said that if Britons would cut alcohol consumption by half it would mean a saving of 400,000 tons of feeding stuff for cattle.

Congratulations

LONDON (CP)—A message to Prime Minister Churchill from General Jan Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, offering congratulations on the successful evacuation of Flanders, was made public today.

$1,492,542,750 Voted U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Senate sent to the White House today a $1,492,542,750 naval appropriation bill making emergency funds available immediately to speed up the production of ships, aircraft, munitions and armament and the construction of new air bases.

The Chamber completed congressional action on the measure, carrying $1,308,171,138 in direct appropriations and $184,371,612 in contract authority, by accepting a conference report previously approved by the House of Representatives.

Emergency funds included in the request of Mr. Roosevelt would make possible the expansion of the navy's enlisted personnel from 145,000 to 170,000 men and the marine corps personnel from 25,000 to 34,000.

Aviation expenditures of approximately $326,000,000 contemplated by terms of the bill would provide the navy with 2,970 new airplanes, of which 2,500 would be training ships. Also provided is $45,000,000 for development of airplane shore facilities.

Courage Will Triumph Declares Menzies

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP-Reuters)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies today declared human courage will triumph over the inventors of the most monstrous machines ever devised.

Speaking at a great "win the war" rally, the Prime Minister said France stood firm with an army backed by the soul and courage of the entire people.

The Germans spent eight years building machines they thought would be irresistible, but the Allied troops withstood them, proving that courage can still triumph, he said.

The Prime Minister announced that since Britain is unlikely to be able to supply planes needed for Australia's training scheme, the war cabinet is purchasing locally 300 Tiger Moths and 200 Wackett planes powered with American Scarab engines, and seven P.B.Y. seaplanes from the United States.

Hitler's Timetable Smashed By Allies

LONDON (CP)—Adolf Hitler confidently expected the capitulation of Britain and France by May 25, a member of the former Netherlands legation at Berlin said in an interview here today. The diplomat is now stationed in London.

According to this diplomat, the Hitler blitzkrieg machine is running behind schedule. Hitler, he said, wrote Premier Mussolini of Italy that French and British resistance would be crushed in 15 days following the occupation of Holland and Belgium. Holland was supposed to have been overrun in a day. The timetable did not work that way, however.

The German army did not have more than 15,000 trained paratroopers, the diplomat said, and most of these are believed to have been killed or captured. Most of Germany's troop transport planes, he also said, were lost in the past few months.

Big Toll Taken of Nazis as Flanks Swing

Tanks Blasted In Hundreds

PARIS (AP)—Tonight's French high command communique said: "During the entire day the battle continued to rage on the whole front from the sea to the region of the Chemin des Dames. Into the melee the enemy threw on many points of the battlefield the new masses of tanks by groups of 200 and 300."

"It is estimated that more than 2,000 tanks have thus been engaged."

"Our divisions fought magnificently. Holding their support points, the battalions, companies, sections and batteries have held their own against the onrush of the tanks, overcoming them with their fire."

"Our air force, persisting in its attacks and assaults and attacking the armored machines with bomb and gunfire, supported our infantry and artillery and continued to return to the field. The number of tanks destroyed is considerably more than several hundred."

Forces Fighting At Bresle River

"Against this unprecedented onrush of enemy masses, some of our units were submerged and outflanked, especially in the region of the lower Somme, where enemy elements managed to get through as far as the River Bresle. The same happened in the region of the River Allette. Enemy detachments succeeded in pushing their way as far as the heights on the north bank of the Aisne."

"Toward the end of the day the battle was continuing as violently as ever. The morale of our troops is splendid."

"Our air force continued destruction of the Rhenish railroad system, and fortifications in the region of the Rhine."

"During the day of June 6, 36 enemy planes were certainly brought down by our fighters and anti-aircraft defenses. Several others were hit and probably brought down."

Planes Join Fight Against Tanks

The War Ministry spokesman, describing the operations, said the enemy had made a "slight advance."

Some of the German tanks were estimated to have driven as much as 7½ miles into the French lines.

However, several hundred of these tanks were declared by the War Office spokesman to have been destroyed by French tanks, planes and by the infantry "support points" which are staggered through General Maxime Weygand's tangle of new fortifications on the Somme front.

The French left, or west, flank was withdrawing from the Somme along the English Channel coast toward the Bresle River, roughly 17 miles south of Abbeville.

Allies Retaliate for Every Town Bombed

The Abbeville region, at the mouth of the Somme, was the scene of some of the fiercest German attacks.

The "panic" tactics used by German aviation in past actions have now lost their effectiveness, the military spokesman said, and are now being used with telling effect by French and British fliers against Nazi troops and tanks. In addition to staging bombing raids deep behind the enemy lines, Allied planes are now dive-bombing against troop concentrations and tanks.

'Flypaper Defence' Slows Tank Thrusts

PARIS (CP)—French 75's and anti-tank guns caught hard-driving German tanks in a tangle of fire on the Somme front today in a battle seven miles in depth.

Other German tanks, pushing recklessly as far as they could go, fought through the battlefield and into the open only to be cut off from their support.

Nests of French machine gunners and pursuit planes were reported to have successfully held back the main German forces, preventing motorcyclists and truck-carried infantry from following up the tank spearheads.

The main German armies struck both directly at Paris, 70 miles away, and in the west toward Rouen.

The new French tactics for meeting a blitzkrieg were said to have entangled German tanks in forward zones, permitting their destruction at will.

The French right (east) flank was falling back from the Allette River south toward the Aisne River.

The German drive was concentrated in the sectors south of Abbeville, Amiens and Peronne, east of the Oise Valley and in the Allette sector.

Violent air battles went on, the French reporting they had shot down 36 German planes, and wrecked perhaps seven more. German troop concentrations were bombed and machine-gunned both on the Somme-Aisne front and on the Rhine.

The new French tactics for meeting a blitzkrieg were said to have entangled German tanks in forward zones, permitting their destruction at will.

Germany's mobile fortresses, pushing far ahead of the main battlefront and miles from their fueling bases, were said in military circles to have found the roads back barred by specially trained and equipped detachments which ringed them under full fire—especially from French 75's—until they were crumpled masses of iron and steel.

The "quagmire" defence—some call it a "flypaper" defence—requires no suicidal attempt by outposts to oppose the heavy tread of the blasting tanks, but rather a yielding which permits penetration of the defence zone to final annihilation.

Frenchmen declare the first results of the second day of the "Battle for Paris" in which 2,000,000 men are engaged prove the efficacy of the "quagmire" defence.

25 Destroyed In I Section

Paris observers declare the Nazi "panzer" divisions—troops on wheels or caterpillar treads—have suffered heavy losses.

Twenty-five tanks were destroyed at Chaumes, nine miles southwest of Peronne, the semi-official Telefrance Agency reported. The Abbeville region, at the mouth of the Somme, was the scene of some of the fiercest German attacks.

The "panic" tactics used by German aviation in past actions have now lost their effectiveness, the military spokesman said, and are now being used with telling effect by French and British fliers against Nazi troops and tanks. Railway Yard At Cambrai Wrecked

"While these attacks were in progress another force of heavy bombers concentrated their attention on lines of communication between Cambrai and Le Cateau, carrying out many low and high level attacks on important objectives. At Cambrai direct hits were registered on a railway marshalling yard, three of the bombs straddling the entrance and tearing up tracks for hundreds of yards. Railway lines elsewhere in the neighborhood were extensively damaged, as well as important crossroads."

'All in France Fight To Win'—Reynaud

PARIS (AP, via Radio)—Premier Reynaud declared tonight "hundreds and hundreds" of enemy tanks had been destroyed since the Germans launched their drive at dawn yesterday toward Paris.

In an address to his countrymen, Premier Reynaud said there was now "reason for hope." And that "the battle of June, 1940, may decide the fate of the world for hundreds of years."

The Premier declared that "the regime of oppression will disappear forever, and that German dreams of control over Europe are going to disappear under French resistance."

"Germany accused us recently of being divided, but today France is calm and united," he said. "Every country in Europe today has one common interest, to avoid the control of Germany."

"France is looking forward to the reconstruction of Europe in which the order and safety of all peoples will be guaranteed. The other peoples of the world must understand soon—because our task is immense."

He said that in the last two weeks he twice had spoken to his countrymen, and that both times his news had been bad. Then he told of the better news.

M. Reynaud ridiculed claims that Allied morale had been smashed by the German successes to date, adding that 335,000 Allied troops had been able to evacuate Dunkerque in the teeth of the German assaults.

"French and British soldiers fought with a valor worthy of their ancestors," he added.

"The soldiers and sailors of France of 1940 have showed themselves worthy of the soldiers and sailors of 1914," he said.

"Hundreds of fighting planes and bombing planes from Germany have flown recently over Paris. Women, old men and children were struck down like all others. I watched our men and women. I noticed their faces were bright and confident of victory."

"As you well know, we have not left this (bombing) attack without answer. British and French planes have attacked the great centres of Germany."

"Every French village or town attacked will find an answer in a German village or town attacked likewise."

"Hitler has just started his latest offensive and has brought into play every plane that he has."

He added Gen. Maxime Weygand had expressed himself as "well satisfied" at the French answer to the German offensive on the Somme.

"We in France have but one thought—to fight for France and victory," said the Premier.

House on War—

Urge Resources Be Fully Used

OTTAWA (CP)—A resolution moved by Hon. Norman McLaughlin, Labor Minister, preliminary to introduction of the annual unemployment and farm relief measure, brought up a debate in the Commons yesterday afternoon in which M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rosetown-Biggar, Sask.; Gordon Graydon, Conservative, Peel, Ont.; F. D. Shaw, New Democracy, Red Deer, Alta.; and A. M. Nicholson, C.C.F., Mackenzie, Sask., joined.

Mr. Coldwell expressed the view the government should "take over the entire economic resources of this country and organize them under public enterprise."

"I submit this is the way to end unemployment, profiteering and what is equally important, this is the way to help win the war," Mr. Coldwell said.

"These things can be done if we have the courage to do them and, in doing these things, we can meet the very problem we are discussing this afternoon."

"I scarcely dare think of the alternative. It is the delay of victory in any event and perhaps even the risk of defeat and the continuance of distress which provides a fertile field of fifth column activities."

Mr. Coldwell declared if the present Parliamentary institutions did not meet present day problems "there will arise in our midst, even as there have arisen in other countries, organizations which will endeavor to supersede this Parliament."

Quoting the speech of the British Prime Minister yesterday Mr. Coldwell said it was evident the Old Country was in dire need of equipment and every kind of economic support.

"Let us take every power plant, every mine, every factory and every shipyard that we need," Mr. Coldwell urged. "Let us organize our labor force to give the material aid our Allies need."

MORE NEED JOBS
Gordon Graydon said the increase by 229,000 in the number of Canadians on direct relief after six months of war was "a challenge to democracy and Canadian parliamentary institutions generally."

"If we cannot reduce the number of direct relief recipients during a world-wide conflagration in which we are supposed to be making a supreme effort, what hope is there for us in time of peace?" Mr. Graydon asked.

Many wondered why there should be need of a relief bill in a time of war, he said. Even a great number of the so-called "unemployables" could be utilized in some form of war work.

Mr. Graydon quoted Labor Department reports showing an increase in the number of direct relief from 539,000 last September to 768,000 in March.

Social credit theories were offered during the debate by F. D. Shaw, New Democracy, Red Deer, as a means whereby the government could end unemployment and farm distress by taking control of currency and credit and issuing it according to the public need.

Several Nazi Planes Bagged

Britain Beats Off Raiders As R.A.F. Bombs Germans

LONDON (CP)—An Air Ministry announcement today said: "During yesterday, Royal Air Force medium bombers carried out a series of attacks on the enemy's line of communications leading to the Somme battlefield. Our fighters operating from France maintained offensive patrols throughout the day."

"Reports so far received show six enemy aircraft were destroyed. One of our fighters was shot down."

"Army co-operation aircraft of the R.A.F. carried out a number of successful reconnaissances during the day."

"Through the night medium and heavy bombers of the R.A.F. attacked enemy troop concentrations and harassed enemy movements behind the fighting front."

"Other formations of heavy bombers struck at junctions and marshalling yards west of the Ruhr, while others attacked military objectives in Germany."

"Two of our aircraft are missing."

"Aircraft of the coastal command made a further raid on oil fuel depots in Belgium."

In an early morning raid, the R.A.F. scored direct hits on oil tanks captured by the Germans at Ghent, the ministry announced.

The raid was reported to have flown low and machine-gunned targets in Ghent, which was illuminated by flames from the burning oil tanks.

RAID ON ENGLAND
Britain's "parashots," with rifles loaded, stood guard today against any attempted landings by German parachute troops in the wake of the Nazi air force's heaviest bombing attack on England since the start of the war.

Apparently in an effort to destroy the airdromes from which Royal Air Force bombers have gone out to pound military objectives in the Ruhr and other Nazi industrial centres, the German raiders last night dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs all along a 270-mile stretch of coast from Yorkshire, in north-eastern England, to Kent, south of the Thames where it winds from London to the sea.

In Kent, a woman, her 13-year-old son and three-year-old baby escaped by leaping over a flaming incendiary bomb which tore through the roof of their house, missed their bed by a few inches and burned a big hole in the floor.

Other incendiary bombs which fell in Kent started two fires on the roofs of buildings, which were quickly extinguished, while another burned out on the front lawn of a house, damaging only the hedge.

With the Nazi air attacks approaching ominously to London, the government renewed its appeals to parents to register their children for withdrawal to safer areas in Wales and the Midlands.

64 PEOPLE HURT
The Ministries of Air and Home Security said six persons suffered minor injuries, and one house in Lincolnshire, on the east coast, was set afire. The communiqué said high explosive bombs were used in two of the attacks "without causing any serious damage."

Incendiary bombs fell in the rural districts of Yorkshire, Lincolnshire and Norfolk, also on the east coast, as well as on the Thames Side, where docks, wharves and warehouses line both sides of the Thames most of the way from London to the river's mouth.

One German plane was believed to have been brought down near an east coast town, where anti-aircraft guns opened fire after the raider had dropped its bombs.

NOT BERLIN
On the heels of the latest German aerial forays the London Daily Express asked "Should we bomb Berlin?" and then answered:

"No. Our rulers are right to attack nothing but aircraft works, petrol dumps, munitions factories and military objectives."

"Here is the reason: 'The only object of bombing centres of population is to spread panic. But experience in Spain and now in Paris shows that it does nothing of the sort. It stiffens morale and fierce determination to resist. It would have the same effect on the Germans, whom Mr. Churchill describes as a very brave race.'

Chamberlain May Follow Daladier

LONDON (AP)—While announcement of French cabinet changes came too late for editorial comment by London morning papers, some observers thought Britain might follow France's example of dropping former Premier Edouard Daladier by shelving his Munich partner, former Prime Minister Chamberlain, who was retained in Winston Churchill's new war cabinet as Lord President of the Council.

The clamor for a "purge" of the Munich remnants of the government, voiced in Labor and Liberal quarters with some Conservative backing, was led by the Daily Herald, chief Labor newspaper, which said the resignation of Chamberlain and a number of other ministers was "widely demanded."

Other British ministers under fire are Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Lord Simon, Lord Chancellor, and Viscount Caldecote, Secretary for Dominions. Government critics also demanded a housecleaning in the civil service, which was accused of "muddling" during the preparatory stage of the war.

The Conservative Times of London contended, however, that "recriminations and searches for scapegoats are not merely unprofitable but definitely damaging at this vital moment."

CABINET SHUFFLE
PARIS (CP)—A communiqué issued from the Premier's office, telling of the dropping of former Premier Edouard Daladier and other cabinet changes, said:

"M. Paul Reynaud proceeded yesterday to a reconstitution of his government."

"The Premier becomes Minister of Foreign Affairs at the same time as Minister of National Defense."

R.C.M.P. Hold Alien For Camera Activity

CALGARY (CP)—Anton Bourassa, described by police as an enemy alien, is held by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Calgary on charges of illegally photographing railway bridges through the Rocky Mountains west of Calgary.

Bourassa's trial is being held at Field, B.C., but for safety he is confined to Calgary R.C.M.P. barracks. Superintendent J. Kelly, in charge of Calgary subdivision, announced last night.

Bourassa was arrested Tuesday morning, appeared in court and was remanded for eight days. He was brought to Calgary this morning and will be taken back to Field next week for trial.

Superintendent Kelly said Bourassa is charged under section 72, Defence of Canada Regulations: "Accused is alleged to have taken photos of strategic bridges on the Canadian Pacific Railway's main line around Field. He was arrested after allegedly having been seen loitering around the bridges."

Want Higher Pensions At Younger Age
VANCOUVER (CP)—Higher pensions at a younger age are urged in a petition sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King by the Vancouver branch of the old age pensioners' organization, officials of the association said yesterday.

The petition, sponsored by the Vancouver branch and circulated throughout western Canada, asks Ottawa to reduce the old age pension limit to 65, and to increase the allowance to $1 a day.

Veterans Advocate Full Conscription
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—More than 1,500 war veterans who jammed Queen's Park Arenex last night endorsed a resolution demanding conscription of Canadian wealth, industry and man-power for the successful prosecution of war, along the same lines adopted recently in Great Britain.

Other resolutions passed ask that all militia units doing guard duties be immediately replaced by veterans of non-active service category and the immediate internment of all enemy aliens.

Weygand Was Ready

SEVERAL ELEMENTS ON WHICH HITLER depended for a quick rush to Paris are no longer serving the Nazi high command. Generalissimo Weygand and his gallant men were not surprised by the resumption of the "Blitzkrieg" on the prepared line. Tanks have been used as they were in the Low Countries; but the French permitted them to press into and beyond forward zones and then destroyed them at will. These monsters ran up against what is being called the "quagmire" defence—some name it a "fly-paper" defence—something which has probably surprised Adolf himself. When these mobile fortresses had pushed far ahead of the main battlefront they found the roads back to their refueling bases, miles away, barred by specially trained and equipped detachments which ringed them under full fire. This is where the famous French 73a came into action and pounded them into crumpled masses of iron and steel. Nazi aviation "panic" tactics, too, have lost their effectiveness; Hitler's troops are now being paid back in their own coin. And as well as the employment of dive bombing by Allied airmen, the visits which British and French fliers continue to pay to strategic military points well behind the enemy's lines, likewise to important industrial regions of Germany proper, obviously are causing more dislocation by the destruction of vital supplies than the official communiqués from London and Paris explain.

It would be indulging in false optimism, of course, to assume that because the French, aided by several thousands of British troops, are dealing effectively with and no longer can be surprised by this new phase of the "Blitzkrieg" the gravity of the situation has been lessened. Competent observers in the confidence of General Weygand are under no illusion. What they are expecting and are preparing for is action of unprecedented weight and ferocity on a particular point in the new line which the Nazi high command considers can be broken over a sufficiently wide area to permit the passage of enough divisions of all kinds to solidify such an advance. In the development of their strategy, of course, Hitler and his generals are not in the least moved by any consideration for the loss of life a grand crash similar to that executed in the "Battle for the Ports" must obviously occasion. But although we may be required to steel ourselves against the news of further withdrawals—tactical movements dictated by the substitution of new methods to meet the unexpected type of warfare which began on May 10—the speed with which the Nazi strategists have turned about after their colossal losses in Flanders suggests that exigencies known only to themselves demand the issue be forced, even though military supplies behind their lines cannot be drawn upon at the present rate indefinitely.

Royal Air Force bombing squadrons and French airmen have given the Allied command and their respective governments connective accounts of widespread destruction which their daily visitations to the enemy's country have wrought. Troop concentrations, marshalling points in the rear of the main Nazi forces, airplane factories and other industrial establishments have experienced the expert marksmanship of the visiting fliers. But it is the continual reports of large fires which have followed attacks on oil refineries, gasoline storage tanks, not to mention the dislocation caused by the dropping of heavy bombs on airbases, railways and vital arterial highways, which is eloquently suggestive of the right kind of damage. What may have some relation to the unceremonious ignition of large quantities of motor fuel, incidentally, is a fairly well-authenticated report that Germany's supplies of oil from Rumania—her nearest external source—are now going forward by rail instead of by the slower and less costly route up the Danube. It is no secret, moreover, that Soviet Russia is not able to supply her doubtful friend with anything like as much gasoline as Germany had hoped for and expected. Again, it would not do to extract more comfort from the implication here than the bare report may suggest, for it is almost inconceivable that the Nazi high command would authorize such prodigious use of motor fuel as the "Blitzkrieg" has required to date unless there were some prospects of continuity of supply. But the main point about the second day of the new phase of the attack is that Hitler's lightning drive on Paris bids fair to meet the same fate as General von Kluck's attempt met with in 1914.

Keep the Libraries Free

THE AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION is already planning to fight the efforts at censorship which are almost certain to be made in the United States. It is setting up a committee which will put the force and influence of the A.L.A. behind any local library board which is confronted with demands for censorship of its books. Libraries, of course, should be universal. They are for all the people. A moment's thought will show that if every group could get the books thrown out of the libraries which it thinks bad, there would be no more libraries worth the name. The very book which you want to find there is the book somebody else wants thrown out as evil. And the book you want thrown out is the book somebody else wants to consult. Group dictation can only destroy the very essence of libraries, and impair their usefulness to all.

A Magnificent Gift

HEARTENING GENEROSITY AND practical patriotism are terms used by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in his message to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber to thank them, on behalf of the government and people of Canada, for their magnificent gift of $100,000—"to be used immediately to the best advantage in furnishing our splendid Canadian fighting forces with the most urgently needed munitions of war and equipment."

It would not be surprising to the people of this province if Mr. King and his colleagues experienced considerable difficulty in finding the appropriate phrase to convey the full measure of their appreciation of this latest manifestation by His Honor and his gracious consort of their intense concern for the public weal in general and for Canada's active representatives in the battle for the liberties of the race in particular. We in this province, of course, are intimately familiar with the fine qualities of heart and mind which the present incumbents of Government House at all times demonstrate in such a heartening and practical way. Innumerable and all-embracing as have been their benefactions of which the public has had knowledge, the will to do good with which Mr. and Mrs. Hamber have been endowed by a kindly nature has found many an unostentatious outlet for expression of which only those who have derived the comfort intended know anything at all.

His Honor intimated to the Prime Minister that he and Mrs. Hamber made their contribution to the cause to which Canada and her Allies are irrevocably committed "in a spirit of humility, fully realizing its comparative insignificance," a sentiment so typical of them. As we leave the subject at that point, then, may we too be permitted to say that their magnificent gift at this stage of Canada's trial is, indeed, practical patriotism in every sense of the term.

Principles vs. Geography

VIRGINIO GAYDA, MUSSOLINI'S JOURNALISTIC mouthpiece, has had a long runnings in which to bat Great Britain and France "all over the crease." On occasion he has revealed an infinitesimal independence of thought, suggestive that—to vary the metaphor—he was not bound to jump through the hoop every time Il Duce cracked the whip. In recent weeks, however, all his sense of proportion and perspective has vanished. His latest is a warning to the United States that American intervention in the war would be an "ostentatious, rash taking of sides in favor of a small part against a greater part of Europe."

If this view of the relationship of the New World to the Old were not so tragically nonsensical it would not be devoid of an element of humor. Nor can we seriously believe that Signor Gayda is so irrationally caught up in the ultra-totalitarian swirl that he has become totally blind to the difference between the principle involved in this struggle and its mundane considerations. It is Italy's business, of course, if she feels like lecturing the United States on its place in the affairs of the world.

Mr. Roosevelt's efforts to keep Mussolini out of the war are not inspired by any love for the Italian partner in the Berlin-Rome axis. But neither the President of the United States nor its people is in the mood to listen indefinitely to back talk and implied insults to common intelligence. And the neighboring republic is fully appreciative of the role "a small part" of Europe is playing on behalf of principles for which 130,000,000 Americans implacably stand.

Notes

Another peculiarity of this war is that all the prophets would rejoice to be shown up as stupid calamity howlers.

Hitler's idea isn't original. All of the Utopia builders would make life nicer for one crowd by removing the hide of another.

Arming doesn't mean preparation for war. Hitler never would have tried it if the small countries had been fully prepared.

Life magazine says the number of people who like snakes is increasing. This is the first kind word the fifth column has received.

Democracy failed in only one particular. Long accustomed to civilized behavior, it couldn't believe that a white nation could turn bandit.

DESERVE THE GALLOW'S

From Toronto Globe and Mail
Hanging was earned by the three bestial creatures who seized and ravished the 26-year-old wife of a Royal Canadian Air Force officer. The young woman was a bride of a few months and had recently left the hospital after a serious illness when she was grabbed by a brute of foreign origin, dragged into a motor car and rushed to the outskirts of the city, where unspeakable and revolting crimes were committed by all three of her kidnappers.

No wonder that Mr. Justice Keiller MacKay exclaimed: "The horror, the detestation, violence and grim reality of your crimes cry aloud to high heaven that expiation for them should be made on the gallows." The learned judge was restrained in the use of language when he described the incident as "a beastly, abominable attack." No more heinous or offensive assault could be imagined.

The maximum penalty for such horrible crimes is hanging, and if ever a case demanded the maximum this was one. The only cure for such loathsome creatures is to be found at the end of a rope. Their lives are of no value.

Parallel Thoughts

Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment.—Matthew 5:21.

Murder itself is past all expiation the greatest crime, which nature doth abhor.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HISTORIC MISTAKE

JUST NOW, strolling in the hot, clammy darkness of Ottawa, I fell in with a Frenchman from Hull. We walked on together for some time, watching the lean towers of Parliament Hill reach up above the maple trees like a fairy story. At last the Frenchman paused and wiping his brow and sweating at every pore, he sighed: "What a climate! In the winter she's too cold, in the summer too hot. Cartier, what did he ever come here for?"

I sometimes wonder myself, these hot June nights when Ottawa lives vicariously through the nightmare of our times. I sometimes wonder why Cartier ever came or anybody after him. Perhaps they knew there was something up the river from the Chaudiere. Perhaps they suspected that far to the west was the Pacific Coast, with a climate endurable to men. Certainly Cartier would never have stayed if he had come on a night like this when the air, full of the thunder-heat which can't bring itself to the relief of rain, clings to you like a woolen blanket and the darkness brings no relief, and the House of Commons pants in a vapor bath.

HARROWING THOUGHT

AT THIS HOUR (incredible thought!)—it is 6 o'clock in Victoria and the kids are swimming on the beaches and the cool wind is blowing up the Straits and the clean sun is dancing on the waves against the background of the Olympics and my onion crop is surging up clean and vigorous in the evening air. And here tonight 63 listless men who have succeeded in life, who have been honored by election to Parliament, who are the outstanding Canadians of our time, are oodling away, pound by pound, in their death watch.

Admittedly, Ottawa is beautiful tonight. The towers soar up through the greenery above the river. The great white face of the clock smiles benignly because it cannot feel the heat and between the trees the turrets of the Chateau Laurier, all agleam with lights, look like a castle in Carcassonne or the Arabian nights, even though they are full of perspiring men in their shirt sleeves drinking Scotch whisky amid politics and cigar smoke.

Admittedly, Ottawa has all the marks of man's civilization which exist in few spots on this side of the Atlantic Ocean. But to-night one would give them all away, towers, clock, architecture and castle, for one breath of the clean, pagan air of the Pacific Coast. Nay, for one look at my onion crop, for a fleeting glance of my developing marrow. I would trade in all the statemen and all the statecraft of this great oozing capital.

STRANGE INSTINCT

EVERY DAY AS JUNE surges upon us, sticky and moist, I marvel more that men actually seek this exile, address meetings, organize committees, eat stale sandwiches with women's clubs, walk up back alleys and plead with housewives and finally get elected to the largest and most elaborate Turkish bath in the country.

And there is no escape once you get into it. I myself have tried to escape it at the weekend. I have fled with the natives into the country, thinking that perhaps it might be something like our lake on Vancouver Island. But alas, you only exchange the gadflies of Parliament for the mosquitoes of the Ottawa Valley, and beside them the mighty insects of Sicamous, famous in song and story, are mere amateurs, unskilled and untrained in their work.

You go about with a big straw hat and two yards of mosquito netting tucked into your collar, and thick leather gloves on your hands, and then discover a few hours later, by a kind of peculiar delayed poison, that you have been stung in every other part of your anatomy. If you go in bathing you must swim under water, for at the faintest show of human epidermis above the surface, a cloud of ravens monsters is upon you. Every body swims under water here, with a suit of armor. And at night that sweet songster, the whip-poor-will, that Canadian nightingale, whips the midnight air so that, with the buzz of mosquitoes and the trill of frogs, you are too enchanted with sweet music to go to sleep.

But I will say that frogs are better than ours. They have a better tone and a superior sense of melody. Where ours croak, the frogs here sing in a beautiful cadence and the mosquitoes have a deep musical hum like a pipe organ. I concede Ottawa that, for I want to be fair. I am in no condition to fight a rearguard action here as I have fought against Winnipeg all these years. I concede Ottawa its superior frogs and mosquitoes and its whip-poor-will. I concede its towers and castles in Carcassonne. I throw in its luxurious Turkish bath and all the distinguished occupants therewith. But I would give them all for one whiff of my onion crop tonight.

DUTCH BULBS NOT AVAILABLE

From Kitchener Record
It is chiefly from Holland that the world's supply of tulip and other spring flowering bulbs are shipped to Canada and the United States each year. The number of bulbs imported annually runs into millions. The present crop of Dutch bulbs is now in bloom throughout the bulb-growing sections of the invaded country, and it is these bulbs which would be exported to America around August, for planting here in the late fall. It is not expected that any bulbs will reach this side of the Atlantic this year. Unfortunately there is no other country to look to for our supply, although quantities of tulip bulbs are grown commercially in part of England, and bulb growing has been developed to some extent in our own British Columbia, but in quantity to supply only a very small part of the demand. The present situation may prove an incentive for Canadian west coast growers to increase their plantings.

According to science, you can sleep better if you rearrange your furniture. Or if you turn out the lights so how it's arranged won't bother you anyway.

How Strong Is Italy?

By LEONARD H. ENGEL

WHILE ITALIAN entrance into the war on Germany's side will certainly be no help to the Allies, Mussolini will have to do battle with an army and air force both of which had to be reorganized from top to bottom last winter; a navy weaker in capital ships although stronger in lighter vessels than the French fleet, and the poorest reserve of resources and raw materials of any major power in Europe.

Despite the general impression to the contrary, the Royal Italian Air Force three months ago included only 3,100 obsolescent planes, according to the trade journal, Popular Aviation. The article is based on reports this spring by the Rome air attaches of two powers, necessarily unidentified. First-line aircraft total 2,100, the reports agree.

LOST AIR SUPREMACY

The state of Il Duce's air arm is surprising, the article comments, but can be explained by the fact that "nonintervention" in the Spanish civil war cost Italy 1,000 planes—500 shot down by the Loyalists and 500 left behind when the Italian troops and pilots returned home—and that Italy is a poor nation industrially.

She was at the head of the air parade for years by being one of the first countries to appreciate the importance of air power. In the last few years, however, other nations have entered the race and have already outstripped her or will because of their greater resources. Italy has already apparently mobilized 2,000,000 of her total of 7,500,000 troops and reserves. Not more than 4,000,000 are likely to be called up any time in the near future, however. This represents a fighting force of 120 to 130 divisions. Estimates of the number of soldiers France has available to meet a thrust across the Alps such as an Italian force agree at 1,000,000 as the maximum.

France's border with Italy, however, favors the Allies, as the Alpine passes spread out into France. The French command thus has the opportunity to attack the Italian detachments coming through the passes before they can assemble.

IN MINORITY ON POPULAR VOTE

From the Edmonton Journal
The official figures confirm the conclusion reached soon after the provincial vote on April 21 that luck favored the Social Credit cause greatly.

Though the government has a majority of 15 in the new Legislature, only 132,869 first choices were polled for its candidates, or just over 43 per cent of the total. On the other hand, 130,603 were marked "2" for the Independents, including the Citizens' state nominees in Edmonton and Calgary, and 19 of them were elected.

The one successful Liberal candidate secured 3,891 and the one Labor representative 3,509. Thus, though there will be only 21 opposition members in the Legislature, the three groups that they represent obtained 138,003 first choices, which was 5,134 more than were cast for Social Crediters, of whom 36 were elected. The C.C.F. with 34,316, the Communists with 1,067, and "others" with 2,609 have no representation.

BELOW THE MILLION

From Manchester Guardian
At last the fatal spell of the unemployment figures has been broken and they have dropped below the 1,000,000 mark. They have taken by a few thousands the other "low points" (in 1926 and 1927) since the all-embracing insurance scheme was started in 1920. We may thus congratulate ourselves that at last the total is really responding to the pressure of war demand. But if we look at the figures from another angle they are less satisfactory. The total is only 359,900 lower than last August, before we entered the war. And since then we have had the calling up of age group after age group. Our unemployed reserves are still pretty big, and we cannot be satisfied unless the total continues to fall at something like the present rate. It is clear, however, that in many industries the residual quantity is becoming almost negligible. Nothing much can be made of the 20,000 classed as unemployed in engineering. Coal mining has dropped to 44,000 unemployed, cotton to 20,000; in both the number of available unemployed is much less. Building has still 83,000 on the register and public works contracting 63,000, while distribution has 120,000. We cannot, however, assume that any of these figures is inevitable. With the coming out of the unessential industries that must quickly come all are capable of reduction if only to make up for the transfer of younger labor to the munition industries. The need is now for the Ministry of Labor to concentrate less on trying to absorb the unemployed and more on at-

NEW WAY OF PUTTING IT
From the Timmins Advance
A friend of the Advance working at one of the mines in the district tells of a Swedish friend of his who puzzled him the other day for a few minutes. This Swedish friend was singing the praises of his adopted country. "The British Empire," he said, "is the greatest Empire that ever was in the world. It has men, money, power and principle. And it is on day shift all the time." "On day shift all the time?" Well, that is a new and interesting way to tell the old story of the Empire on which the sun never sets!

Salvation Army To Open Hostel

Within a short time a first-class hostel will be opened in London by the Salvation Army for Canadian troops on leave. The hostel, with accommodation for 300 men, will meet a pressing need.

In addition, headquarters reports that extensive welfare work is being carried out in training areas overseas as well as in Canada. A number of mobile canteens have been placed in operation among the Canadians overseas. During March, these canteens served 19,577 men.

It is for such work that the Salvation Army is holding a $20,000 campaign in Greater Victoria starting Monday, for a week. The money will be used for the organization's ordinary welfare work as well as for war work.

Numerous Red Shield huts have been established in the Dominion as well as in England. Well over 500,000 sheets of Red Shield writing paper have been used by the First Division since it arrived in England.

In Victoria, the Salvation Army has established a Three Services Centre in the old Duck Block, Broad Street, where men of the army, navy and air force can find recreation, refreshments and sleeping accommodation.

In Ontario there are Red Shield centres at Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Camp Borden, Hamilton, London, Listowel, and Windsor. Plans are virtually complete for extensions to meet the needs of summer concentration centres throughout the country. In these centres the Salvation Army will operate canteens, recreation rooms, sewing rooms, sound-movie entertainments, reading and writing rooms and other forms of wholesome entertainment or ac-

REPORTS GIVEN ON SAANICH WEEK

Plans are near completion for Saanich Strawberry Week from Saturday next to the following Saturday, it was reported to the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

The group is sponsoring the promotional campaign for the celebrations in collaboration with fruitgrowers' organizations of Saanich.

Frank Waring, chairman, announced that the Standard Furniture Company will present three prizes to the strawberry queen and her two attendants.

Warren W. Martin, chairman of the queen and entertainment committee, reported good progress. Splendid co-operation between the groups staging the festivities insure the week's success.

It was reported later in the meeting by Mr. Waring that through the efforts of Harold Diggon arrangements had been made for the former Penderay made for the gardens at Loretto Hall to be taken care of as a tourist attraction, with financial assistance from three sightseeing and taxi companies.

W. T. Straith, M.P.P., will bring before the Department of Trade and Industry the question of repairing and maintaining the fountain on the Malahat formerly owned by the Rotary Club.

The government was commended on its plan to erect an Indian display at Douglas and Belleville Streets.

$6,500 Prizes For Horses

Nearly $6,500 in prizes are being offered by the B.C. Agricultural Association for the various classes in the horse section of the 79th annual exhibition at the Willows, September 7 to 14.

W. H. Mearns, secretary of the fair association, in announcing the prize list said all livestock entries must be in the hands of exhibition officials not later than August 10 because of Dominion regulations, which make it compulsory for all entries to be checked by the federal livestock department.

In the breeding horse section, prize money totals $5,355 for the 42 classes covered by Percherons, Belgians and Clydesdales. To this is added the agricultural classes, which have $167 in prizes, and the heavy draft horse classes which have prize money totaling $720.

In connection with the horse section of the fair, six-horse team displays and competitions will be held in conjunction with the horse show, to be held on September 11 and 12.

WINS GOLF MATCH

Harold Brynjolfson with a gross 74 and a net 70, won the annual Victoria Life Underwriters' Association golf tournament at Colwood Tuesday afternoon, receiving the handsome managers' trophy at a presentation ceremony during dinner at the clubhouse.

Presentation was conducted by Ivan Rycroft and Harold Winterburn.

Runner-up to Brynjolfson was J. R. Nicholson. Brian Hunnings won the low gross prize, and D. Elford was runner-up. George Gordon won a prize for high gross and W. Okell received a prize for having the most consistent score. M. Humber won a prize for having the highest score on a single hole, and Fred Lewin won a hidden-hole contest.

J. H. Croft, president of the association, was in the chair at the dinner which followed the tournament. Speaker at the dinner was M. L. McPhail, St. John, New Brunswick, president of the Life Underwriters of Canada, who was in town on a presidential tour.

His talk was on what life insurance means in the social, financial and educational life of Canada.

Plastering was continuing at Burnside auditorium today as city school board officials expressed the view the $4,500 building would be completed in time for the opening ceremony before the end of the current term. Built at the urgent request of the Parent-Teacher Association of the district, the structure will provide facilities for full participation in the physical education end of the current curriculum established by the Department of Education and will afford adequate space for concert parties and lectures in the district.

A suggestion has been made by J. B. Munro, deputy Minister of Agriculture, that housewives can assist strawberry and other small fruit growers by arranging to preserve an extra crate of berries this season. A bumper crop is in prospect and transportation difficulties may interfere with marketing.

Canadian Poetess Visits Victoria

Mrs. Florence Randal Livesay, outstanding Canadian poetess and writer, who recently won acclaim for her translation of the Ukrainian classic "Marusia" by Kvitka, has been a visitor in the city for a few days, leaving Tuesday afternoon for Vancouver to visit her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Livesay Macnaul, also a well-known poetess, before returning to her home in Ontario in July.

Mrs. Livesay, who lives in "Woodlark" Clarkson, is the wife of J. F. B. Livesay, former general manager of the Canadian Press, who himself is an author of note, publishing his war memoirs, "Canada's Hundred Days," in 1918. Mrs. Livesay is recognized as one of Canada's most able women journalists, both as a poetess and newspaper commentator, her work having been published both in this country and abroad. Among her best known works are "Songs of the Ukraine," "Savor of Salt" and "Sign Posts."

While staying here she was the guest of Mr. Kenneth C. Drury, Island Road.

Dressmaking Class Has Fashion Show

The dressmaking class of the Dominion Provincial Vocational School held a fashion show yesterday afternoon in the Kingston Street School, as part of the year's program.

Miss Edythe Callister, the instructor, was assisted by 13 girls and young women of the class who modeled for the first time the garments made by the class, many of which were of original design. Cottons were featured from sport to dinner frocks.

Miss Diana Darling rendered vocal selections. Those who modeled the frocks were the Misses Jane Barter, Kathleen Molloy, Aline Brenne, Joyce Fitzsimmons, Barbara Lane, Lorraine Tait, Alice Kater, Isla Neelds, Evelyn Mermood and Peggy Dyer.

The Afternoon Branch of St. John's W.A. will hold its meeting next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, in the guild room.

Victoria Couple Today Wed 64 Years

Sixty-four years ago, when Canada was only nine years old, a pretty young girl named Hannah Coker joined her life, for better or for worse, with that of strapping young Abraham Miller Witmer.

Today that couple, in the evening of their life together, are celebrating the 64th anniversary of their wedding day, June 6, 1876, in Wellington County, Ontario. At their home, 931 Craigflower Road, members of their family and many old-time friends called to wish them long life and many happy days.

"You know, it doesn't seem any time since that day we were married," Mrs. Witmer said.

"Well, it's only three periods of 20 years and then four—20 years isn't long—that's the way I figure it," her husband added.

Mr. Witmer and his wife do not remember when they first saw each other. They were born on neighboring farms and played together, went swimming and threw snowballs at each other in winter.

"Did I ever have another sweetheart?" he repeats, looking fondly at his wife. "Well, perhaps I did. I don't really remember."

"What's the difference if he did? It was more than 64 years ago," says his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Witmer are remarkably active for their years, with perfect hearing and eyesight and unclouded memories. She, like most ladies, wouldn't tell her exact age, but said she was married when she was around 19 years. He quite frankly said he was in his 89th year.

No interference with each other's chores, only consultation, is their recipe for a long, happily-married life.

"I've always looked after my house," says Mrs. Witmer, "and he attends to the woodpile and the outdoor chores."

There are few other couples in Canada married as long as the Witmers, who are in the best of health and enjoy life to the full.

They have three children, Miss Mabel Witmer, employee of the Canadian Pacific Express, who lives with her parents; Orville, at Nanaimo and Louis, who lives near them on Craigflower Road. There are also two grandchildren.

Their third son, Harry, died of wounds in France in 1917.

Diamond weddings are nothing new in Witmer's family, for his mother and father celebrated 60 years of wedded life in 1901.

The Willing Workers of the Parkdale Sunday school held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Parker, Irma Street, yesterday afternoon. It was decided to hold a garden party at the home of Mrs. Stewart, Tait Street, in July. Refreshments were served by the hostess. On Friday evening at 8 the teachers and officers of the Sunday school will hold their quarterly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Craig, 400 Boleskine Road. The Young People's Society will hold their first beach party of the season June 11, at Witty's Lagoon.

On the occasion of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. J. Smart, manager of the Gorge Vale Golf Club, and Mrs. Smart, David Street, who celebrated the occasion recently, the members of the Gorge Vale Golf Club presented them with a silver tea service.

Golden Wedding Held Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. H. Jutson Fisher, who Tuesday celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day at their home on Tudor Avenue, Cadboro Bay, were married 50 years ago Tuesday in Yardley Parish Church, Worcester, England, and came to Victoria in 1927.

A large representation of members of the Victoria Riding Club and of the Victoria Polo Club were among the guests who called Tuesday afternoon to extend their good wishes and congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher received their friends on the lawn in front of the house, and in the drawing-room and on the veranda masses of beautiful flowers, sent by friends, made a lovely setting. Yellow and deep flame-colored anemones, roses, carnations and golden-yellow iris predominated on the table on which stood the three-tier wedding cake.

Mrs. Fisher wore a gown of soft blue lace, with a white feather boa and broad-brimmed white hat trimmed with deep rose velvet leaves. She wore hand-made lace mittens embroidered with tiny beads in a floral pattern, and carried a Victorian-style of Tulleman roses and forget-me-nots tied with gold ribbon. Assisting in receiving was Mr. and Mrs. Fisher's only daughter, Mrs. C. F. Gibson, who wore a floral chiffon gown and matching picture hat.

Tea and ices were served in the rose garden, where long tables were decorated with bowls of Tulleman roses and yellow marigolds. Mrs. Philip Fisher, daughter-in-law of the host and hostess, and Miss Anna McAnally poured tea and coffee, while the Misses Patricia and Brenda Gibson and Mr. Humphrey Gibson, granddaughters and grandson of the hosts, and Mrs. Hilton Weeks were among those who assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher received many cables and telegrams from friends conveying their good wishes. Tuesday evening a family dinner party was held at the Empress Hotel.

Quantities of Gifts
For Refugees

Donations beyond all expectations were realized yesterday by the members of the Red Cross who arranged the "material shower" for Britain's refugees at the home of Mrs. J. W. Benning, Rockland Avenue. Among the many gifts received were bolts of flannel, material by the yard, jerseys, socks for all ages, yarn for socks, pyjamas, hand-woven material, underclothing, blankets, shirts, etc., while a number of cheques added to the value of the undertaking.

Throughout the afternoon guests arrived, among the distinguished ones being Mrs. E. W. Hamber, accompanied by Mrs. Mae Rice, and Brigadier-General J. G. Austin and Miss F. FitzGibbon, representing the Red Cross. The materials donated will be made into garments by the voluntary workers in the Red Cross workshops for shipment to England.

The Red Cross colors, red and white, were prominently displayed. The Red Cross colors, red and white, were prominently displayed. The Red Cross colors, red and white, were prominently displayed.

Many Attend Y.W.C.A. Dance

The second in the series of summer dances sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. particularly for the men of the three services, was held Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce hall. Mrs. Ross Crane was in charge of the arrangements and others assisting her on the committee were Mrs. J. Parnall, Mrs. P. A. Gibbs, Miss Blanche Alward and Miss Sara Spencer. Fred Pitt's orchestra was in attendance and Mr. Jim McCague was the master of ceremonies. Novelty dances and prizes and a buffet supper were included in the evening's program.

The hall was effectively decorated with large flags and baskets of summer flowers, Miss Ida Pearce, Miss Molly and Miss Phyllis Cox being in charge of the arrangements. Miss Lila Crowther was in charge of the ticket sale and Miss Doris McBain convoked the refreshments. Other members of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A., members of the girls' work committee and members of the Three Services Auxiliary who were present and assisted during the evening included: Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hamilton, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. K. O. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. Parnall, Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crane, Mrs. H. F. Le-Queune, Miss I. Fitzgerald, Miss Grace McDonnell, Mrs. J. W. Benning and Mrs. H. E. Ridewood.

The next dance sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. will be held on Tuesday, June 18, from 8.30 until 12, with Fred Pitt's orchestra again in attendance. Novelty dances will be a feature of the evening and refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all club girls and members of the three services and their friends. The senior girls' summer program is in progress now and on Thursday evening, weather permitting, the girls will gather at the "Y" at 8 for a "lazy arrow" chase, after which refreshments will be served at the "Y". On Monday evening a beach party will be held and all those wishing to participate are asked to meet at the "Y" at 8.

Silver Tea for French Red Cross

Among the numerous social functions held yesterday was a silver tea held by the Alliance-Francaise at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey Newstead, Island Highway.

The affair was held in the drawing-room, sunroom and den, the tables all being decorated with flowers. Mme. E. Sanderson-Mongin and Mrs. M. Little poured tea in the dining-room, from a table centred with delphiniums and snapdragons, and members of the Alliance helped with serving. Mrs. Arthur Laundry was at the receipt of custom, and during the afternoon there were musical selections by an instrumental trio comprising Mrs. G. Newstead, Mrs. M. Camusa and Miss May Warnock, with Mrs. F. Hawes as accompanist. Franchette d'Estreube, one of the young members of the society, delighted everyone with a recitation in French.

Mrs. Howard Archibald, the president, in thanking the hostesses, spoke of the urgency of France's need at the present time, and said that the moneys donated during the afternoon would be forwarded to France immediately through M. Lageste, the French minister at Ottawa. She also urged members to continue their efforts on behalf of the French Red Cross, and announced that the next meeting of the society would be on July 3 at the home of Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Ten Mile Point.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, of the central Red Cross committee, was also a guest at the party, and together with the other visitors was welcomed by the president of the Gorge unit, Mrs. Ivor Austin.

Tea was served at tables under the trees, those responsible for the arrangements being Mrs. Ivor Austin, general convener; Mrs. F. H. Davey, Mrs. Boam, Mrs. W. Dealey and Mrs. Foster, while teacup reading, in charge of Mrs. Porteous, was a popular feature of the afternoon. Approximately $80 was realized for the Red Cross funds.

The honorary treasurer of Red Cross acknowledges with thanks receipt of the following sums: Shawngnan Red Cross Unit, $20 (additional); Brentwood Red Cross Unit, $30 (additional); St. Joseph's Alumni, $20.

Mrs. Griffiths from St. Aidan's, introduced by Mrs. Perry, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, Victoria West United Church, held on Monday afternoon. Her address was entitled "The Great Burden-bearer on Whom All Cares May be Laid".

Let's Make Some Candy

A good idea—particularly if you have Carnation Milk on the pantry shelf. For Carnation is many a candy expert's favourite milk. It's so creamy smooth—it makes finest-grained fudge, caramels, fondant. Try Carnation Milk next time you make candy.

And remember, the creamy smoothness of Carnation is just as great an advantage in other cooking. Cream soups, sauces, puddings, frozen desserts are all finer, richer when Carnation is used. And just try it for creaming coffee and cereals!

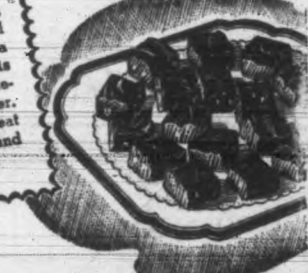

The heat treatment and homogenization which make Carnation Milk safe and smoothly creamy, also make it much more digestible as an infant food. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

CARNATION FUDGE
2 cups granulated sugar
2 tablespoons corn syrup
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Carnation Milk
1 cup nuts
3 tablespoons butter
Mix all ingredients except the nuts and butter; boil until syrup reaches 240°F. or until a soft ball is formed when a small amount of syrup is dropped in cold water. Remove from fire and add butter; cool until lukewarm. Beat until creamy; add nuts and pour into a buttered pan.

There are glorified recipes of all kinds in the beautifully illustrated deluxe Carnation Cook Book—15c (postpaid). Carnation Company Limited, Abbott St., Vancouver.

COLD MEAT WITH FRENCH'S MUSTARD

The use of French's Prepared Mustard lifts cold meat out of the ordinary... gives it distinctive flavour and tang. Prove it next time you serve a cold plate.

When the first mouthful makes you shout

NOW THERE'S A REAL FLAVOUR!

...you'll get the quick energy you really need!

The harder pressed you are, the more you need a morning meal that does these three vital things. First, the very sight of it should make your mouth water. So that next you'll really get from it the quick energy you need. And last, it must go on releasing energy for hours!

These three things Kellogg's Corn Flakes do best. Proven first in flavour, they're crammed full with easily assimilated carbohydrate energy—convenient too—only 30 seconds to serve and no pots or pans to clean. Get several packages tomorrow—or, if you eat your breakfast out, ask for the wax-wrapped individual package! Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

FIVE TO ONE records family choice. In a recent Dominion-wide survey, housewives were asked "What ready-to-eat cereal is favourite in your family?" As compared with any other corn flake mentioned, the vote was Kellogg's five to one! Taste experts check with housewives. After a blindfold taste-test of all four brands of corn flakes Mr. W. B. Cross, Tea Taster for Mellocup Tea, writes: "I found it easy to decide which rated first with me... the sample which later proved to be Kellogg's!"

Lake Hill Women's Institute met on Monday, Mrs. W. S. Webster occupying the chair. The members decided to organize a class in "Home-making" under the tuition of the department of University Extension, and to ask the co-operation of the Royal Oak Institute. Mrs. A. S. Mot-fat, convener of education and better schools, reported on receiving essays entered in competition from grades 6, 7 and 8, Cloverdale School on the subject of "Sannich, Our Municipality." Lake Hill Red Cross Unit T announced a garden party and various stalls to be held at the home of Mrs. Snape on Tattersall Drive, June 12. The July meeting will be in the form of a "wool bee." Miss Gavin gave an instructive demonstration on the use of the "Vitamizer" and the value of the vegetable juices.

CONNORTON-COOKSON

At St. Matthias' Church yesterday, Rev. Archdeacon Cornish united in marriage Vera Mary Cookson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cookson, 1051 Yates Street, and Mr. Wallace John Connorton, son of Mrs. J. R. Connorton, 3316 Quadra Street, and the late Mr. Connorton.

Summer flowers adorned the church for the occasion and Mr. W. H. Gray, the church organist, rendered the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of turquoise blue silk, fashioned in redingote style, a large white picture hat trimmed with blue, and a corsage bouquet of pink and white sweethearts roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. H. R. Gray, was matron of honor and wore a dark blue dress, a large navy and white hat and a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

The bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Cyril Connorton.

A small reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's mother for relatives and a few intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Connorton left for Portland to spend their honeymoon, and will later make their home at All Bay, Sidney.

For traveling the bride wore a dark blue fitted coat with white trimming.

Miss Phyllis Milligan of Vancouver and Miss Sylvia Piddington of Victoria attended the bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Henry Buss of Victoria. Mr. Percival T. Molson of Montreal was his brother's groomsmen, and Mr. J. S. Tyhurst of Victoria acted as usher.

New Mother New Baby

A young mother writes that when her baby developed eczema, was cross and could not sleep, both grandmothers told her to get Dr. Chase's Ointment. This she did and baby's skin was soon cleared of this annoying ailment which brings so much suffering to babies and sleepless, worried nights to mothers.

This experience only goes to show how universally Dr. Chase's Ointment is used as a means of keeping baby's skin healthy.

The mother is wise to apply Dr. Chase's Ointment after the bath to any part of the skin which shows redness or other indications of infection. Creams and powders contain nothing to kill the germs of infection and hence the necessity of antiseptic treatment such as Dr. Chase's Ointment to make short work with the germs of infectious disease.

WHEN THE TWIN $10,000 Haggins Stakes were staged last Saturday at the Hollywood Park track in California we doubt if many northwest race followers knew anything about the colorful record of James Ben Ali Haggins, in whose honor the races were named. Lucky Baldwin's name is kept fresh in memory by the phenomenal Santa Anita track situated on that amazing character's old Rancho Santa Anita.

But one seldom hears of Haggins, whose life was as remarkable as that of Baldwin and who did even more to make California at one time the leader over Kentucky as a centre of thoroughbred breeding.

Haggins was born in Mercer County, Kentucky, in 1821. His mother's name was Ben Ali, her father, Ibrahim Ben Ali, being a Turk.

Educated at Centre College, Haggins studied law. Defeated for a small political office, he went to California with the gold rush ... began out west as a peddler with a pack on his back.

With piercing black eyes and a full flowing snow-white beard, Haggins' Oriental appearance was as colorful as his career.

He obtained his start toward the top when he acquired land and mining interests in payment for legal services. His holdings soon became vast. He obtained control of rich copper holdings in Peru ... became fabulously wealthy. Haggins was in California 30 years before he entered racing.

His silks first appeared in the east in 1885 on the three-year-old Tyrant and Hidalgo. Tyrant won the Withers and the Belmont Stakes, Californians cleaning up.

The following spring Haggins took the Kentucky Derby with Ben Ali, which the season before had captured the Hopeful.

In 1886, Haggins turned up with the filly Firenze, rated by most critics second only to Miss Woodford among racing mares of the United States for all time.

Salvator appeared for Haggins in 1888. He captured the Suburban ... held records.

Salvator was a disappointment as the head of the stud on the 44,000-acre Rancho del Paso, near Sacramento, but his failure only spurred Haggins to make it the most elaborate breeding establishment the world has ever known ... in 1905 having 26 sires and 536 broodmares.

Haggins imported stallions ... bred racers in such numbers that 3,000 were in his possession at one time.

He also established Elmendorf Farm, outside Lexington, Ky. In 1903 he sold 120 yearlings bred at Elmendorf and 234 bred at Sacramento. Haggins consignments arrived in trainloads.

Haggins lost millions when racing was killed in New York in 1908 and in California in 1910.

When he died in 1914 at the age of 93, his Elmendorf Farm was split up and auctioned. Today the show place farms of Joseph E. and George D. Widener, C. V. Whitney and the Greenacre Stable occupy portions of what once was Haggins' property.

That gives you a rough idea of how big a breeder James Ben Ali Haggins was.

He was a colossus such as racing has never known since.

Gardiner Bowls Win for Spencers

In their first match in Wednesday Cricket League play this season yesterday at Beacon Hill Park, Spencers, captained by Jim Oakman, scored a decisive win over Garrison, 82 to 37.

Both teams played 12 men rather than the usual 11.

George Gardiner, postmaster of the city, turned in the featured performance of the afternoon bowling six bats for only 11 runs in six overs for Spencers.

Oakman also did well at bowling for the winners, taking four batsmen for 24 runs.

Spencers went to bat first. Frank Tyrrell and Percy Shrimpton batted 26 runs before the first wicket fell. The store batters collapsed momentarily, four men being sent to the sidelines with no change in score. Norman Tyrrell and J. Hesketh ran the score up to 69 for six wickets, but the seventh and eighth wickets fell at the same score. The inning closed with 82 runs. George Baker had 6 not out.

Garrison then took over but could not take the bowling of Gardiner and Oakman. Batters were dismissed with scores of one's two's and three's the inning finishing with 37 runs.

Hesketh led Spencers in batting with 25 runs. Norman Tyrrell had 20 and brother Frank 18. K. Elliott led Garrison with 12 runs. Berridge bowled three for 16 runs for the army team and Smith had four for 23.

Shores Blast St. Andrews

VANCOUVER (CP) — Soccer followers said today it was just a matter of time before North Shore United are crowned 1940 Canadian champions. Last night they moved a step in that direction by scoring a 5 to 1 victory over St. Andrews in a first round match in the Dominion Cup series.

North Shore, who won the Dominion title in 1937, became B.C. favorites after Radials, last year's Canadian champions, were ousted by the unranked Kerrisdale club 2 to 0 in a first rounder last Saturday.

St. Andrews knocked out Radials in Mainland Cup play recently and were listed as the biggest obstacle to Reds in their march to the Canadian finals. Date and place for the national playoffs has not yet been set.

Reds wasted no time in taking command of play last night, although the Scots managed to keep them at bay for the first 15 minutes. Cec Goodheart rammed in North Shore's only goal in the first half.

Don Matheson gave Reds a 2 to 0 lead early in the second half before Johnny McIntosh sank St. Andrews' lone marker. Wally Rowe, former netminder for Victoria City, played between the posts for Scots in the absence of Johnny Newbold, who is out of town.

Other North Shore goals were scored by Norm McLeod, Mike McManus and Basil Robinson.

Oak Bay High Wins Track Meet

Athletes from Oak Bay schools, public, private and high, competed in the annual schools' athletic association meet at the high school grounds, Cranmore Road, yesterday, before a large turnout of students.

Oak Bay High walked off with the Curtis Shield for highest points over Willows, Monterey, St. Michael's and Glenlyon Schools.

Runners and jumpers from the high school collected 16 1/2 points. Willows was second with five points. In junior contests Willows beat Monterey 15 to 10.

The 400-yard run was the only noninterschool event, open to Oak Bay High students only. J. Squires won the event over W. Towill. A. MacFarlane was third. Squires was awarded the Clear Cup for his win.

The high school relay team scored a close victory over St. Michael's second, and Willows third, in the Ansonb event. The winning team was composed of R. Barber, B. Hetherington, M. Hammersley, and J. Wilbert.

Eagles Score Easy Victory

Big banging Steve Dunc paced Eagles to a 13 to 6 victory over Pitzer and Nex in the senior ball game at the Athletic Park last night. The hard-hitting outfielder punched out three hits in four trips to the plate including a home run inside the park.

Playing errorless ball behind the hurling of Stan Davies, Eagles, recent winners of the McGavir Cup, looked much the better ball club. Pitzer and Nex, defending city champions, had one of their worst nights, six errors creeping into their play.

Manager Bert Nex was the chief offender with three bobbles. Davies, although he allowed 10 hits, was given the best of support by his mates. He struck out seven and walked four. Hornsby started on the hill for Pitzer and Nex, but lasted just two innings, being replaced by Maitland. The pair were nicked for 12 hits. Hornsby fanned two and Maitland three. The former issued a pair of walks and Maitland a like number.

Eagles collected a total of 10 runs in the first three innings to put the ball game away. They added three more in the sixth for good measure.

Short score follows:

Eagles 13 12 0
Pitzer and Nex 6 10 6
Batteries—Davies and Bridgewood; Hornsby, Maitland and Cosler.

Cubs vs. Cedar Hill Athletics, Beacon Hill; umpire, Steve Dunc. Games commence at 6.15.

Conn to Quit Light Heavies

DETROIT (AP)—Gus Lesnevich, a plodding pugilist from Cliffside Park, N.J., lost his chance to win the light-heavyweight boxing championship of the world last night but he woke up today with the knowledge that the title will probably be his within a few days.

Billy Conn, the champion, rebuilt the blasted hopes of Lesnevich a few minutes after receiving the decision in a 15-round defence of his crown.

Lesnevich was in a shower cooling his tired body when Conn walked in.

"It was a nice fight, Billy," said Lesnevich. "I have no alibi."

"Don't feel bad," answered Conn, "because the championship will be yours in a few days. This fight convinced me I can't take off weight any more and from now on I'm a heavyweight. You can beat the other light heavies."

"But I don't want the title that way," said Lesnevich. "I want to win it in the ring."

"If you want to fight me again become a heavyweight," said Conn. He said he hoped to get a shot at heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

The battle, second meeting of the pair, attracted a slim crowd of 6,075 spectators and a net gate of $17,048.

The only time either boxer was in distress was in the final round when Conn staggered Lesnevich repeatedly with a fusillade of lefts and rights.

Take Third Straight From Aces

EDMONTON (CP)—Days when the name of Edmonton Grads blazed across sports pages in Canada and the world announcing achievements of the world senior women's basketball champions are gone forever. Tonight the quintette, holders of most amazing record in history of Canadian sport, disband on their 25th anniversary while at the height of their careers.

At a monster banquet tonight which writes "finis" to their basketball history, Grads will receive the Underwood Trophy, emblematic of international basketball supremacy, which they have held for 18 years against the toughest opposition from the United States. Guests will include almost all the 40 players who have played for successive quintettes since the club was formed in 1915.

Grads, who will donate a trophy for international competition, placing the Underwood, which they defended 34 times, have never lost a Canadian championship series and were the top women's team at four Olympics.

Visitor to City Hurt in Accident

William Gartrell, 68, of Tacoma, Washington, was injured this morning when he was knocked down on Douglas Street by an unknown driver of an automobile.

Taken to Jubilee Hospital in the police patrol by Constables Brooke Douglas and James Strong, the white-haired visitor, according to Dr. Lloyd McNiver, attending physician, suffered back and head injuries and was considerably shaken up. X-rays taken showed no fractures, the doctor said.

The accident occurred about 10:15. Mr. Gartrell was walking across Douglas Street when he collided with a car being driven north on the same street by a driver who did not stop. Sara Blenkinsopp, Happy Valley, R.R.1, and Mrs. Hopkins witnessed the accident. Mrs. Blenkinsopp said she was not sure whether Mr. Gartrell walked into the car or the car hit him.

Barred By CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has placed "certain" new restrictions on news broadcasts in Canada as a wartime precaution and Transradio News will be excluded from Canada from June 30," a CBC spokesman said today.

The new regulation was adopted at a meeting here last Saturday of the CBC board of governors, and it also was decided that no advertising matter can be included in the body of any news bulletin. The CBC spokesman was commenting on a statement read last night over radio station CKCO here, ascribed to Herbert Moore of New York, president of Transradio News Service, which said the broadcasting of Transradio news had been ordered stopped in Canada next July 1.

The order had gone out from the CBC, the statement over CKCO said, and would be fought diplomatically and legally.

The statement added that Transradio News always had been prepared to obey instructions of the censor and that Transradio had maintained a "neutral attitude in reporting war news."

The meeting decided to ask that next week's secret sitting of the House of Commons for debate on home defence be extended to two days.

Savings Campaign Proving a Success

"There is no doubt of the success of the savings campaign," said Mr. Spencer, British Columbia chairman of the War Savings Committee, as he stepped from the seaplane at Esquimalt this morning. He flew from Vancouver to meet local officials of the drive and to tell of the progress made so far throughout the province.

Mr. Spencer is shown (centre, above) on his arrival. On the left is Eric V. Chow, who has been loaned to the Dominion government for two months by his firm, the Mutual Life. F. E. Winslow, local manager of the Royal Trust Company and Victoria representative on the Provincial War Savings Board is with Mr. Spencer. "Everyone is behind the savings idea," Mr. Spencer said. "The man with the small bank account is as enthusiastic as the rich man everyone is co-operating to make it a success."

"This is not a special drive, like a war loan—it will continue as long as necessary," he added.

Army Wants Men

General Recruiting Launched in B.C.

Recruiting for military units will become general all over British Columbia next week, military headquarters announced today.

Nine district recruiting depots are now being organized and Lieut. Col. H. E. Goodman, V.D., has been appointed recruiting officer for Military District No. 11 with headquarters at Work Point.

Men for service overseas and at home particularly those with training in various trades, are wanted and special arrangements are being made to facilitate enlistment.

Victoria will be the recruiting centre for all of Vancouver Island, including Duncan, Nanaimo, the Albernis and Courtenay. Applications will be taken at the district depot at the Armories.

Other recruiting centres will be at Cranbrook for the First Kootenay area, at Nelson for the West Kootenay area, at Kelowna for South Okanagan, at Kamloops for the North Okanagan and adjacent regions. Two depots in Vancouver and one in the lower mainland and another centre will be established for the Prince Rupert, Smithers, and Prince George area in the north.

A travelling medical board has been arranged so that recruits may take their medical tests on the spot and be sent immediately to training centres or to district depots.

In each district if there are a number of prospective recruits at one point recruiting officers will go there with the medical board to take them.

When recruits have been medically examined and attested they will be given transportation with meals to their unit so they will not be put to unnecessary expense.

Military headquarters announced recruiting officers will pay particular attention to skilled mechanics, cooks, clerks and other specialists to see they are put in units where their knowledge will be most useful.

Nickerson Feared Worst, While Lost In Island Woods

"Those bright lights certainly look good to me," sighed Maurice Nickerson in a weary voice when he caught sight of the city's lights last night through the window of the car that was speeding him home for a much-needed rest after being lost in the island woods for four days and three nights.

The object of a wide search for several days, Mr. Nickerson, exhausted and hungry, found his own way out late yesterday afternoon while more than 20 searchers and a bloodhound were scouring the heavily wooded country between Shawnigan Lake and Sooke. With his Alsatian dog still at his side, he finally stumbled back onto the trail he had lost last Sunday and at 5 in the afternoon arrived in a very spent condition at the home of A. M. Furlong, at Burnt Bridge in the Silvermine Trail region of Shawnigan Lake.

RESTING NOW

He was resting comfortably at home today under the care of Dr. Hermann Robertson. He was allowed no visitors.

While Mr. Nickerson was too weary to give a detailed account of his adventures in the hinterland last night he spoke about them to his father and H. B. Elworthy, manager of the Island Fur and Barge Company, where Mr. Nickerson is employed, as he was being driven home last night.

Mr. Nickerson told them he shuddered at the thought of what would have ultimately been his fate had he not brought himself out. He did not believe searchers or the bloodhound would have found him for in his wanderings his trail was covered many times by water, boggy land and marshes and because he never was on a trail again until yesterday. He had run out of food on Sunday and yesterday the pangs of hunger were intense. His dog proved a great comfort.

During the days he was lost he kept on walking all the time, trying to find his way out. Nickerson estimated he tramped at least 20 miles a day. He had no map or compass with him, and had to rely solely on his own judgment, which in the long run proved very good.

THREE SEARCH PARTIES

He was unnerved over his ordeal. Three parties were still out searching for him today, Gordon Sword, Charlie Burr and Charlie Jordan, with the bloodhound; Chris Behnson of Shawnigan Lake and companion, and Russell Mills and party from Port Renfrew. Mr. Elworthy today said that a plane had been chartered from Vancouver to fly over the district. This was the signal to the parties still searching that Nickerson had been found.

In recounting events that happened, Nickerson, whose original intention was to fish Trout Lake, said that after he left his car at the end of the Silvermine Trail he followed the trail into the lake for two hours, when he met two hunters. They advised him to leave the trail and strike through the woods. It would be shorter, they said. He did this and an hour later reached the lake. Suddenly, however, he got the thought he might not be able to find the trail again, so he started back immediately, but became lost between the lake and the trail.

A little farther he hunted all day for the trail and by nightfall fell exhausted to the ground and went to sleep. Next morning he was so cramped from sleeping on the wet ground that he could not walk. For nearly three hours he crawled along on his hands and knees until he had regained the use of his legs.

All day Monday he continued the hunt, but was more careful not to exhaust himself, and when night again came he made a bed of boughs and moss, and with the dog curled up beside him for warmth spent a better night. However, around 2 in the morning the hush of the woods was shattered by the piercing screams of cougars. A deer went dashing by, the aim of a pair of cougars. Nickerson had to hold his dog for fear it would go after the cats and get killed. He was terrified at first, but was comforted to a certain degree by the fact that cougars rarely attack man.

On the move all the time and getting hungrier, Nickerson failed to locate the "way out" of his predicament all day Tuesday and at night bedded down in a more comfortable manner again. On the following day, however, the lost man found a stream and followed that. While he was following it he stumbled onto the trail he had been seeking for days, which he identified by track marks. From there he made for Furlong's cabin and safety.

He refused to discard his rod and camera.

There will be three units. The First Battalion, which has been named as a unit of the Third Division, is taking on men 19 to 35 years of age in medical category A. The Second Battalion, remaining here as a coast defence and training unit, is taking on men in A and B category, aged 19 to 40. The regimental depot is engaging A, B and C category, aged 19 to 45, and is particularly looking for men of clerical experience.

Major Henson, who is in command of the depot, has a distinguished military career in the Great War and since. He went overseas with the 30th Battalion in the Great War, and thence to the 7th Battalion. After being wounded at Hill 63 he became a postmaster instructor at Seaford and later musketry officer. After the war he entered the N.P.A.M. Canadian Scottish First Battalion and has served with the unit continuously in the appointments of adjutant quartermaster and regimental quartermaster. He was one of the staff officers responsible for the success of the Royal Visit arrangements and was brigade major for the visit of Canadian troops to Seattle in 1938.

Major Henson is a militia staff course graduate and for many years served on the executive of the United Services Institution.

CIGARETTE FUND

Canadian troops leaving Canada have been supplied with cigarettes by the Over-Seas League Tobacco Fund. This fund is organized by the Over-Seas League, London, England, under the patronage of the King, for the purpose of supplying men of the Empire on active service with adequate smokes.

An all-Canadian committee is charged with the organization of a similar fund in Canada set up by the authority of the Secretary of State for Canada, and registered as the Over-Seas League (Canada) Tobacco and Hamper Fund.

The honorary chairman of the committee is the Honorable Howard G. Ferguson and the patrons include Lieutenant-Governors of six provinces, and other distinguished Canadians. The committee itself is comprised of representative business men.

Offices of the committee have been opened at 67 Yonge Street, Toronto, which will be the headquarters for Canada.

Arrangements have been completed with all the chartered banks to co-operate. All those who wish to contribute can do so through the nearest bank. The banks, at the same time, will be able to supply full information.

In addition to the tobacco given to troops leaving Canada, the committee now has in England 250,000 cigarettes for distribution where they may be required most.

Drama Scrapbooks Bring Prizes Here

Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane, Miss Daphne Gill, Miss Marion Jones and James McAree were the three Victorians who won prizes in the recent drama scrapbook contest sponsored by the Community Drama branch of the Department of Education.

The contest was introduced to keep alive dramatic interest in British Columbia, following the postponement of the provincial drama festival because of the war. Five prizes were offered for the best drama scrapbook sent in by adult members of clubs affiliated with the Provincial Drama Association, and also those sent in from the school clubs affiliated with the British Columbia School Drama Guild.

Mrs. Lane represented the adult group, in which she tied for third place with G. P. Tyrrell of Pouce Coupe, Peace River district.

Miss Jones and Mr. McAree represented Victoria High School, and took second and third prize in the school class. The first prize in this class was taken by Miss Gill, who represented Oak Bay High School.

Following is the list of prize-winners in the contest in order of merit: Mrs. J. H. Stephenson, North Bend, B.C.; F. H. W. Chanter, Longbeach, B.C.; Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane and G. P. Tyrrell of Pouce Coupe and Mrs. Vincent Rush, Port Alberni, B.C.

In the school class, the following were winners: Miss Daphne Gill, Oak Bay High School; Miss Marion Jones, Victoria High School; James McAree, Victoria High School; Miss Mary Crozier, Windsor High School, Vancouver, and Miss Bette Robertson, Kitsilano High School (Junior), Vancouver.

The judges, in their criticism, spoke highly of the dramatic interest and historical value of the scrapbooks, which showed a deep interest in dramatic development in amateur drama and playwriting within the province.

The scrapbooks will be on display at the next provincial drama festival, which will be held in either Victoria or Vancouver.

The following acted as judges of the contest: Mrs. Betty Hetherington, Mrs. Ina Uthoff, W. B. Crawley, C.D.A.; E. G. Smith and Col. F. T. Fairley.

LEGION DELEGATES MEET PREMIER KING

OTTAWA (CP)—Three members of the Canadian Legion executive council yesterday held a lengthy discussion with Prime Minister Mackenzie King on Canada's war effort and "fifth column" activities.

Resolutions dealing with these subjects, passed at the legion's recent convention in Montreal, were presented to the Prime Minister.

"Our discussions with the Prime Minister and his cabinet colleagues were of an extremely frank nature," said Alex Walker of Calgary, Dominion president of the Legion. He was accompanied by W. C. Nicholson of Montreal, first vice-president, and J. R. Bowler of Ottawa, general secretary.

The petition was circulated by the Alberta Natural History Society, officials of which announced there are 320 Red Deer residents who have erected bird houses.

N. Finn, an official of the society, said Red Deer has all the natural conditions to make it a bird paradise, but prowling cats have destroyed many fledglings and even cat owners have agreed to bell the animals would result in some protection.

Mr. Finn hopes the city will follow the example of Stavelay, where a by-law requiring bell of cats was passed in 1936. In six other Alberta towns—Nanton, Coleman, Stettler, Turner Valley, High River and Camrose—cats are belled either voluntarily or by by-law and A.N.H.S. officials report the bird population in those centres has increased due to this protection.

DRAMA-PACKED FILM AT PLAZA

The excitement-jammed, drama-packed "The Night of Nights," by Paramount, is now showing at the Plaza Theatre.

Sweeping bows are in order in the direction of the sterling cast which headlines Pat O'Brien, Olympe Bradna and Roland Young, and toward Donald Ogden Stewart, author of the screen play, who upholds a record of successes which extends from "Smilin' Through" to "Marie Antoinette."

The film goes backstage for an authentic and stirring glimpse of the people who make the world behave for brief spells in the theatre.

'Of Mice and Men'

Betty Field plays the role of Mae, heroine of Hal Roach's production of "Of Mice and Men," screen version of John Steinbeck's powerful novel, which is scheduled for its initial showing at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

Produced and directed by Lewis Milestone, this new production co-stars with Miss Field, Burgess Meredith of "Whispered" fame and Lon Chaney Jr., namesake and scion of a great movie family. In the supporting cast of the film are such top-notchers as Charles Bickford, Roman Bohnen, Bob Steele, Noah Beery Jr., Granville Bates and Leigh Whipper.

RIO PRESENTS 'MEXICALI ROSE'

Replete with thrills and a happy mixture of catchy tunes, Gene Autry's newest musical western from Republic Studios, "Mexicali Rose," now at the Rio Theatre, is excellent screen fare, and a new feather in the popular cowboy's hat.

A choice cast helps Gene in "Mexicali Rose." Two famed veterans, Noah Beery and William Farnum, head the supporting players. Luana Walters, a lovely newcomer, does well as the feminine interest.

Smiley Burnette, whose comedy is an invaluable factor in Republic's musical western successes, is hilarious in this new production.

SPENCER TRACY IN NORTH EPIC

Spencer Tracy, star of the picture, Robert Young, Walter Brennan and several hundred other Hollywood actors spent six weeks in the wilds of Idaho to obtain the colorful backgrounds which figure prominently in Kenneth Roberts' best-selling novel. With the exception of a few early sequences of the story, the entire production was made in the outdoors during this location.

The petition was circulated by the Alberta Natural History Society, officials of which announced there are 320 Red Deer residents who have erected bird houses.

N. Finn, an official of the society, said Red Deer has all the natural conditions to make it a bird paradise, but prowling cats have destroyed many fledglings and even cat owners have agreed to bell the animals would result in some protection.

Mr. Finn hopes the city will follow the example of Stavelay, where a by-law requiring bell of cats was passed in 1936. In six other Alberta towns—Nanton, Coleman, Stettler, Turner Valley, High River and Camrose—cats are belled either voluntarily or by by-law and A.N.H.S. officials report the bird population in those centres has increased due to this protection.

Want Bells on Cats

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—More than 300 citizens of this central Alberta town have signed a petition asking a by-law requiring all cats to wear bells while out of doors, officials in charge of the drive reported today. The petition will be submitted at the next council meeting.

The petition was circulated by the Alberta Natural History Society, officials of which announced there are 320 Red Deer residents who have erected bird houses.

N. Finn, an official of the society, said Red Deer has all the natural conditions to make it a bird paradise, but prowling cats have destroyed many fledglings and even cat owners have agreed to bell the animals would result in some protection.

RAFFLES' GREAT CROOK STORY

Headed by a cast which stars debonair David Niven and lovely Olivia de Havilland, Samuel Goldwyn's production of the exciting mystery-melodrama, "Raffles," is showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. Based on the celebrated novel, "The Amateur Cracksman," by E. W. Hornung, "Raffles" dramatizes the story of a suave and dapper gentleman crook, who moves in the highest society and is known as a champion cricketer.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Two's company and three's a crowd"—except at the Capitol Theatre, where Columbia's "Too Many Husbands" is hilariously proving that "two's company and three's a comedy!" Jean Arthur, Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas are starred in the film, one of the merriest, maddest marital mix-ups ever brought to the screen!

Based upon W. Somerset Maugham's sensational stage success, brought to the screen by Wesley Ruggles from Claude Binyon's adaptation, with a supporting cast which includes Harry Davenport, Melville Cooper, Dorothy Peterson, Mary Treen and Tom Dugan, "Too Many Husbands" would inevitably belong among the season's more memorable films, but the swift tempo of its direction and the sly, sparkling character of its writing makes the new film an important contender for "top ten" honors.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE, with Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY—

Vasco da Gama Visited Calicut King

Vasco da Gama's good fortune at Malindi came in the finding of a pilot. A sailor from India was at the African harbor, and he agreed to take the helm of the flagship, and to direct it toward his native land.

The start across the Indian Ocean was made near the end of April in 1498. Twenty-six days later, the little fleet came to anchor off the shore of southwestern India, beside the city of Calicut.

A monument which is believed to have been built in India by order of Vasco da Gama, in memory of his voyage.

That meant a dream had come true. For the first time in human history, sailing vessels from Europe had finished an all-water journey to India. From that time forward, it seemed likely that trade could be carried on without danger of having overland caravans robbed. India's cloth, spices and jewels could be obtained in trade, and taken to ports of Europe.

There was a question, to be sure, of how the people of India would treat the men from Portugal. Vasco da Gama sent word to the king of Calicut, saying he would like to have a talk with him. A friendly reply came back, and the leader of the Portuguese went ashore with three of his men. Dense crowds stared at him as he was carried in a litter to the royal palace.

The king greeted the visitors pleasantly, and his servants gave them ripe bananas and other fruits, along with bowls of water so they could wash their hands. The talking had to be done with the help of an interpreter. This is the substance of it:

"I have come," said da Gama, "from the monarch of a great country in the west. The monarch told me I must reach India or else lose my head!"

"You are welcome here," said the king of Calicut. "I will send an ambassador to your country." "Tomorrow I shall come back," promised da Gama, "and with me I shall bring presents and a letter from the ruler of Portugal."

When he returned to the palace, his men carried these presents for the king: four red hoods, six hats, four strings of coral beads, a case of sugar and two casks of honey. Officers of the king laughed at the presents and said that a poor Arab merchant would bring better gifts.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, JUNE 7

Benefic aspects dominate today. It is an auspicious date for leaders of their fellowmen. There is a sign, however, presaging jealousy, which inspires misrepresentation of ideals and severe criticism of motives.

Women today are under a fortunate rule of the stars. It is a time for starting that which is most desired in launching children along the right paths toward life vocations. Need of aid in public service will be felt as the war progresses. Training to be nurses should be encouraged. Romance will flourish under this configuration.

Earthquakes will cause heavy losses in Japan this summer, increasing economic problems. Canada will prove supremely valuable in the progress of British military operations. More aggressive policies are prognosticated for the mid-summer.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good fortune. They should make hay while the sun shines during the next 12 months.

Children born on this day probably will be kind-hearted and affectionate. Many profoundly intellectual persons belong to this sign.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

UNTIL 1881, THERE WAS NOT A SINGLE WILD RING-NECKED PHEASANT IN THE ENTIRE UNITED STATES; THE BIRD WAS INTRODUCED THAT YEAR INTO OREGON FROM CHINA.

ANSWER: A group of stars in the constellation Cassiopeia, crudely resembling a chair.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been a good wife to my husband and have done everything I knew to make him happy and comfortable, and he has been kind to me except for one thing. He never gives me a present on my birthday or our anniversary or Christmas. I don't ask for much. I would be satisfied if he would just give me a five-cent card, or something from the five and ten-cent store. I just want some little token of remembrance from him. He says I am acting like a child when I attach any importance to the fact that he never makes me a present. Should he do so, or am I really silly?

SAD WIFE.

Answer: I suppose it is foolish not to be able to take a husband as he is, and to recognize that if he hasn't any sentiment or romance in his nature he is just built that way and can't help it, and that when he provides his wife with beefsteaks it is just as much an expression padded room on a silk cushion?

But however true this may be, it is also true that women are emotional creatures who can never be satisfied with the dry husks of things. It is never enough for them that their husbands prove their affection for them by working their fingers to the bones to support them. They want some outward expression of love, some sign that they are still remembered, still desired. And that is why the little anniversary presents mean so much to them.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a boy of 19 with two more years to go in high school. I am in love with a girl also at school. We want to get married, but my mother and father want me to wait until I am about 30 years old before I get married. How old should a man be before he marries?

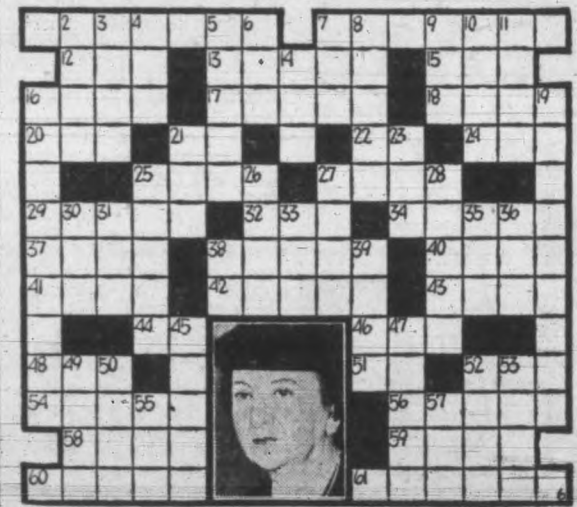

HL.

Answer: I think if boys would wait until they are 25 and knew what their tastes in wives were, it would do more than any one thing to promote happy marriages.

But the matter of age isn't so important in marrying as the ability to support a wife and family, and no schoolboy can do that. He has to dump his wife down on his parents to take care of, and that is a scurvy trick to play on Mom and Dad.

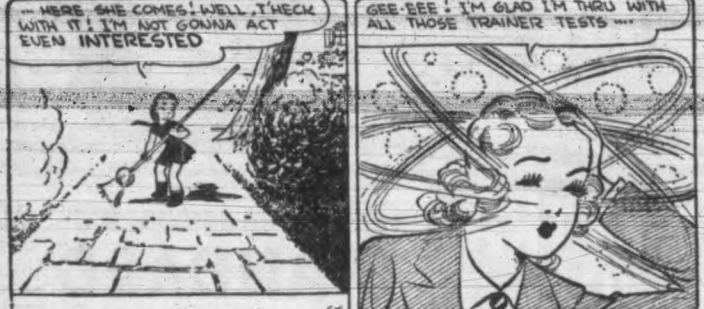

DOROTHY DIX.

Eucharistic Congress Will Attract Throngs

BISHOP CARROLL

From all parts of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, Roman Catholics will converge on Courtenay this week-end for the second Eucharistic Congress of the Diocese of Victoria. The first was held two years ago in Beacon Hill Park.

Rt. Rev. John C. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, will lead the delegation of priests and laymen from Victoria. Many will travel up-land-in-private-cars, others by bus and special train.

Following Pontifical High Mass at the Church of the Canadian Martyrs in the morning, Rt. Rev. Francis P. Carroll, Bishop of Carroll, will deliver the sermon at outdoor Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Lewis Park in the afternoon. This will be followed by the congress banquet in the Sons of Canada Hall in the evening, at which the speaker will be Rev. Father Donald A. MacLean, ordained for the Diocese of Victoria, but at present on the teaching staff of the Catholic University of America at Washington, D.C.

Feature of the congress will be the elevation to the rank of monsignor of Father MacLean, on the occasion of his silver jubilee in the priesthood. He was born in Nova Scotia in 1886 and ordained June 8, 1915.

He has four brothers and five sisters and of the family of 10 six entered service of the Roman Catholic Church. Three of the sisters are nuns—Sister M. Redempta, Banff Hot Springs Hospital; Sister M. Clement, superior of St. Augustine Seminary, Convent, Toronto; and Sister M. de Chantal of St. Joseph's Hospital, Glace Bay, Nova Scotia. His two brothers in the priesthood are Father Kennedy-MacLean, pastor at Warburg, Alberta, and Father George Joseph MacLean, pastor at Johnstown, Antigonish Diocese, Nova Scotia.

Twenty-five years ago Father MacLean was pastor at Ladysmith, and the Sacred Heart Church at Cassidy was erected under his supervision.

Bishop Cody has received the blessing on the congress from the apostolic delegate at Ottawa.

Most picturesque of the lay delegates to the congress will be Indians from the west coast of Vancouver Island, who are leaving this week in their canoes and gasboats to round the top end of the island en route to Courtenay. The entire diocese will join in a Spiritual Bouquet to Pope Pius and prayers for victory and peace will be offered by Bishop Cody. Among the officials are: Rev. T. Geukers, master of ceremonies; W. J. Hagarty, grand marshal, assisted by E. St. Martin; Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Briggs, reception committee; transportation, John Neary and J. J. McKenna; Mrs. Blair Reid, in charge of tickets for special train; Miss E. Regan, in charge of sale of badges; Leo Anderson, sound effects; R. J. Filberg, P. S. Fagan and Alex McDermott, finances; F. L. Doherty, guard of honor for benediction; Mrs. W. C. McManus, Spiritual Bouquet.

RELIEF LISTS FALL

A reduction of 24 cases was seen in the May relief lists in comparison with those for April, according to figures announced today by the city welfare office.

Of that decrease, seven were family units, the remainder single unemployed.

Totals for May showed 290 married jobless and 478 single securing relief. In April there were 297 family units and 495 single. Last month's figures showed an exceptionally favorable comparison when contrasted with those of May last year. In the 1939 month 507 married and 430 single were listed. The average family unit contains a man and wife and two children.

The reductions were largely attributed to the absorption of relief units in industries and other fields stimulated by war conditions.

The telegram forwarded to Ottawa from a mass meeting in Beacon Hill Park on May 26 urging greater Canadian war effort and internment of aliens has been acknowledged by Prime Minister King in a letter to Major T. R. Wheldon, who was chairman. The representations were carefully noted, the letter says. On the question of aliens and home defence reference is made to the statements made in the House of Commons on May 23 by Justice Minister Lapointe and Defence Minister Rogers.

Today's Motor Tourist

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ashe drove all the way from Bogota, Republic of Colombia, South America, to visit Vancouver Island and mainly, Butchart's Gardens. "We'd been told of the beauties of the gardens from various sources," Mrs. Ashe said. "They were the first place we visited when we arrived here and we've not been disappointed. It's marvelous the way Mr. and Mrs. Butchart have developed the spot into such a mass of beauty." Mr. and Mrs. Ashe are remaining in Victoria three days. Their license plate, shown right, has white numbers on a red background.

HIGH WAR RENTS WILL BE LISTED

"We have definite proof that many small owners have raised rents 20 to 25 per cent since the outbreak of war," declared Edwin F. Fox, president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, as that body accepted the challenge thrown to it to list specific cases in which charges have been boosted.

The list will be prepared and laid before the Real Estate Board of Victoria, the meeting decided. Delegates at last night's session emphasized the alleged "profit-eering" had been carried out by private owners, and was not the responsibility of real estate agents.

Ernest Belton, secretary, stated increases ranged from 12 1/2 to 30 per cent. Charges were also made that exorbitant rentals were being charged for duplex houses, raising the income from them to a point far above a fair return on their investments.

The council further decided to recommend to the city school board that it include in its next estimates a vote to provide free dental service for all grade school pupils. The meeting felt dental trouble was the cause of a great deal of illness, and should be countered while children were young. It suggested that a second dentist and a second dental nurse be engaged by the city for the schools.

A protest was also recorded against the alleged action of Oak Bay municipality in employing a fireman in the erection of a municipal building.

Conservatives Want Conscription

Oak Bay Conservative Association at a meeting in St. Mary's Hall, passed a resolution urging Canada to follow the lead of Great Britain and other dominions and introduce a measure conscripting all available man power and the control of all essential resources for the wholehearted prosecution of the war. In a second resolution the provincial government was urged to compile a compulsory voters' list as a means of making ready an efficient system of alien-control. Since only British subjects are entitled to vote this would immediately establish the status of aliens, it was pointed out. Strengthening of the home guard was also urged. Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown presided.

Experiments show that wild ducks have been killed by swallowing six number five lead shots, or even fewer of these poisonous pellets.

GARDENERS MEET

Amateur gardeners, who grub in the earth, Tuesday night heard something about Nature's sea gardens when Canon Robert Connell addressed the Victoria Horticultural Society meeting at the City Hall, on "Gardens of the Sea."

In a delightful talk, Canon Connell told of the various types of seaweeds to be found in the waters between Victoria and Barkley Sound. He described their growths and their histories and showed an interesting collection that he had gathered from the ocean beaches along the West Coast.

H. O. Simpson won first prize in the rose competition, with Mrs. F. M. Minifie, View Royal in second place. A. E. Powell, Madsen Avenue, won the award for strawberries.

W. H. Warren, president of the society, was in the chair. Plans were made for the flower show, featuring roses, at the Willows Friday and Saturday, June 21 and 22.

Governor Inspects

Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, accompanied by Hew Paterson, aide, yesterday morning paid a visit to Yarrows Ltd., at Esquimalt and inspected the work going on at the plant.

His Honor was shown over the works by Norman A. Yarrow, managing director; John Cameron, general manager, and W. W. Izard.

67 BARGAIN LOTS SOLD IN CAMPAIGN

During the city's bargain lot campaign, started January 30 and concluded May 31, Victoria disposed of 67 parcels for $50 each, according to a statement from the lands department today.

The drive was initiated to assist those wishing to build in Victoria to secure the special benefits of the Housing Act, particularly in relation to tax rebates on improvements.

Each purchaser covenanted to build for his own use a home of a value not less, in total, than $2,000. Improvement tax rebates were given under the housing scheme to those who started building before May 31, provided the complete value of their homes, with the land, did not exceed $4,000.

The campaign was declared a decided success by those who organized it. In addition to giving prospective builders special tax advantages, the drive had the added value of broadening the city's taxation basis and gave extra work to the construction and allied trades here.

The B.C. forest branch today reported forest fire losses for the season still well below the average of recent years. Up to June 1 114 fires had been reported compared with 354 to the same date last year and 374 in 1938. In the Vancouver forest district containing the bulk of the logging operations only 16 fires had broken out as against 89 last year and conditions were reported cool and cloudy.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Popless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.
The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong; yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and nervous.
Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It's their job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.
Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as it goes once feeling on top. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.
